INTRODUCTORY REMARKS.

In compiling this Catalogue, we have been as accurate and explicit in description, as its great cost, and our knowledge and experience enabled us; and we believe that we have truthfully represented the condition and rarity of the pieces.

The Greek and Roman were collected by an American Gentleman, during his travels in Greece and the Holy Land, nearly thirty-five years ago, and have ever since, until now, remained in his possession.

The American Colonial and Pattern Pieces are not many, but particularly rare and desirable; among the former we would call attention to the Continental Tin Money and the Carolina Elephant Cent.

American Tokens or the "Private American Coinage," including the Washington Pieces, for which there has recently been such a furor, are here in a considerable number; some of them are quite rare, and among them a few of recent issue: the dies having been destroyed and a very limited number having been struck, they may prove an attractive feature of the sale.

A very few fine Medals, including one of Lafayette that we believe to be unique, a very choicely selected set of English Tokens, and a collection of American Cents in very good condition, complete the catalogue.

CATALOGUE.
